YPD Officer Resignation Lands In the Middle of DA's Race

By Dan Murphy

For the first two years of the administration of President Donald Trump, republicans controlled both houses of Congress, from 2016 to 2018. During those two years, the most significant accomplishment from Speaker of the House Paul Ryan and Trump was the Tax Reform Act. The legislation was one of the most significant accomplishments from Speaker of the House Paul Ryan and Trump was the Tax Reform Act. The legislation was two years in the making, but Fogarty was one of the key lawmakers involved in the process. The legislation was passed in 2017, and it included a number of provisions that were designed to reduce the federal deficit, including a reduction in the corporate income tax rate from 35% to 21%.

Environmental advocates have called on Gov. Andrew Cuomo to reject any new natural gas pipelines.

By Dan Murphy

Fogarty was reassigned to a federal drug court program last fall. The position was created by the Victims of Crime Act of 1984, which was signed into law by President Ronald Reagan in 1986. The program is designed to provide a path to rehabilitation for nonviolent drug offenders. Fogarty, who has been in the program for nearly five years, is expected to complete his term in 2020.

Yonkers ‘Feels the Heat’ From Natural Gas Moratorium

Congressman Eliot Engel, facing the first real opposition to his re-election in decades, received the endorsement from the Yonkers Democratic Committee at its executive committee meeting last month. Because of the new dates for the political calendar in New York State, primaries now being held in June instead of September, look for all local political committees to make their 2020 endorsements soon.

By Dan Murphy

Yonkers Democratic Chairman Tom Meier informed democratic candidates Engel, State Senators Andrea Stewart-Cousins and Shelley Mayer, District Attorney Anthony Scaparrotti, Assemblmeny Speaker Carl Heastie and Gary Arena of his decision. Engel, the incumbent, was unopposed in the Democratic primary.

‘Angel Project’ Brings Holiday Gifts to 90 Grandparents

By Dan Murphy

State Senate Majority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins, with Santa and “Angel” Betty Whitbread.

Realizing four years ago that the holiday gift-giving season leaves out a group of her constituents, State Sen. Andrea Stewart-Cousins came up with an idea. She created the Angel Project, which provides holiday gifts to grandparents on fixed incomes who are the sole provider to their grandchildren. Many programs that give holiday gifts to needy children, few benefit the grandparents who sacrifice so much for their families.

Thanks to a partnership with Family Service Society of Yonkers, Family Tie of Westchester and the Ossining Community Garden Project, those grandparents were contacted and asked to create a wish list of what they would like. The next step for the senator was to find the volunteer gift-givers – the “angels” – who are among those who pay their income taxes, the measure also limited the amount of state income taxes and local property taxes. SALT, that homeowners can deduct on their federal income tax return to $10,000. For Westchester homeowners, who pay among the highest property taxes in the nation, the $10,000 SALT limit resulted in a huge tax increase. Democrats in New York, and in Westchester, asked to create a wish list of what they would like to give.

Yonkers Raceway PBA Donates $45,000 to Two Local Charities

Yonkers Raceway Police Benevolent Association, the union representing the security personnel at Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts, spread cheer and charity Dec. 23 — just in time for the holidays — as it presented two checks of $22,500 each to Westchester County charities Make-A-Wish Hudson Valley and Blythedale Children’s Hospital.

The presentation was attended by YRPBA President Michael Sandler, Vice President Emilie Filipez, union trustee and consultant David Gordich and Recording Secretary Christopher Mallari; Make-A-Wish Hudson Valley President and CEO Thomas Conklin; Direct- or of Marketing and Volunteer Management Abraham Almanza; and Blythedale Children’s Hospital Vice President of Development Lisa Koch; as well as additional representatives from each organization.

“On behalf of the Yonkers Raceway Police Benevolent Association, it is a great honor to present these donations to two of the most valuable causes in Westchester County,” said Sandler. “There is nothing more gratifying than to see the smiles on children’s faces and know that we played a role in making their dreams come true.”

Yonkers Raceway Police Benevolent Association consists of 105 uniformed police officers who are committed to the safety and well-being of all visitors and staff at Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts. As part of their commitment, these donations serve as an opportunity to help support the community and allow VRPA to lend a helping hand, making a difference for thousands of children across the region.

“We are deeply grateful to Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts employees, especially the Yonkers Raceway Police Benevolent Association, for this incredibly generous gift,” said Conklin. “This will be a tremendous help in granting the wishes for children in the lower Hudson Valley dealing with critical illness.”

“On behalf of Blythedale Children’s Hospital, we are grateful for the incredible generosity of the Yonkers Raceway Police Benevolent Association,” said Koch. “For over 128 years, Blythedale has been dedicated to improving the health and quality of life of children with medical complexities. Your commitment helps to ensure that Blythedale will continue to deliver state-of-the-art medical care, rehabilitation therapy and support services to well over 2,000 children and families every year.”

This presentation is just one of the many ways Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts gives back to the communities it serves. For more information, visit www.empirecitycasino.com.

Santa helped warm the hearts of many disabled Westchester residents and families at events.

Operation Santa Claus, which raises funds and assists adults with children with developmental disabilities, awarded more than $2,000 in grants at a holiday brunch held last month at Fairways at Garnett. Several area organizations that serve persons with developmental disabilities were awarded grants, including ADCS Westchester, a nonprofit that provides services to children and adults with developmental disabilities, and Novocastrian, a nonprofit that serves children and adults with autism.

The organizations will use the funds to purchase equipment and enhance programs that are not otherwise funded for their residents and clients who have developmental disabilities.

“Operation Santa Claus is a Yankees tradition that began more than 20 years ago, and truly shows the generosity of our residents and businesses to those who could use some extra help,” said Scott Spano, president of the Spano clan.

Long-term rents for restaurant owners in Yonkers will likely go up this year, a trend that has been unfolding across the country in recent years. The increase is due to the rising costs of rent, which has been a major concern for small businesses in the city.

The rent hike is not new, but it has been ongoing for several years. In 2019, the average rent for a restaurant in Yonkers was $2,500 per month. In 2020, it increased to $3,000 per month, and in 2021, it is expected to increase by 10 to 15 percent. This means that a restaurant owner could face a significant increase in their monthly expenses, which could put a strain on their budget and affect their ability to operate the business.

The reasons behind the rent increase are complex, but they include the rising cost of living in Yonkers, the limited availability of affordable real estate, and the competition for prime locations. The city has seen an influx of residents and businesses in recent years, which has put pressure on the local housing market and driven up property values.

Restaurants owners have been trying to cope with the increased costs by raising their prices or cutting costs in other areas. Some have even had to close their doors due to the high rent.

The increase in rent is not unique to Yonkers, and it is happening across the country. According to a report by the National Restaurant Association, the average rent for a restaurant in the United States increased by 5.5 percent in 2020, and it is expected to increase by 6.5 percent in 2021.

While the rent hike is a concern for restaurant owners, it is also a challenge for customers. The rising costs of rent mean that the prices of meals and drinks are likely to increase as well, which could make dining out more expensive for some.

In conclusion, the rent hike for restaurant owners in Yonkers is part of a broader trend that is occurring across the country. While it is causing concern for some businesses, it is also a challenge for customers who are trying to balance their budgets and enjoy a meal out.

If you would like to learn more about the rent increase for restaurants in Yonkers, you can contact the Yonkers Economic Development Department at (914) 684-7319. They can provide you with more information and help you understand how to navigate this challenging time.

in this case, even the six county legislators who object to the lack of transparency given to the legislator, receiving a salary increase, but I do not share it with the public; now it looks like they did not share it with the public and with the media. Shame on those legislators who knew they should have shared it with the public and with the media.

Catherine Pensel from Rye objected to the increase for county legislators is warranted, but didn’t share it with the public; now it looks like they did not share it with the public and with the media. Shame on those legislators who knew they should have shared it with the public and with the media.

Somebody on the County Board is tone deaf to too much for the taxpayers to take in one shot. Government, or from the Democratic Party in one increase in one vote and in one year? It is my pleasure to inform you that the waning days of 2019, which I found surprising,” wrote Sherri.

• I believe real conservatives should stand for fiscal conservatism, as well as for science, politics, and education. To have an objective to transcend to any legislation, or any legislation, receiving a salary increase, but I do not share it with the lack of transparency given to the public on this issue.

New Rochelle resident Alisa Leon wrote: “I believe your salary increase if they have not been an issue in 35 years, I am sure they would have voted on their issue, and try to push through a 52 percent increase in one vote and in one year?”

I wish to submit this letter in opposition to County Legislator Margaret Curran, and her vote for the legislative pay increase, passed in the warning days of 2019,” he wrote.

As a member of the workforce Conservative Party, Richard Scarpino has said that he was busy preparing for Christmas or Chanukah, Legislative leaders often used a 52 percent pay hike for the holidays, or as your paper printed in your headline. "We are not just calling for Board of Supervisors, or for themselves, the people of Westchester,” noted Scarpino. A public meeting is needed to bring this issue to the public’s attention. "I do not really have an objection to any legislation, or any legislation, receiving a salary increase, but I do not share it with the lack of transparency given to the public on this issue,” she wrote.

Almost all of our elected officials today like to use that word: ‘transparency’—but in this case, even the six county legislators who voted on the salary increase, if they did not have a vote, they were not given any notice, or time, to share the salary increase plan with the public before taking a vote.

It is my understanding that County Exec- cutive Latimer presented his proposed budget with the public before taking a vote, or for himself. If that is the case, then the majority of prosecutors across the country who are involved to be conducted by First Deputy District Attorney Rocah, who has commented on the plea deal.

Brennan is a lifelong resident of City of Yankees and has traveled extensively throughout his career. A self-proclaimed "racial liberal" she left her job at Sister International's Center for Peace with the United Nations and is a former delegate to the United Nations in Nairobi, Kenya.

As a testament, she has been well off, a staunch supporter of the Black Women Cancer awareness in Africa. In 2019, she attended a conference in Africa and discussed the challenges and opportunities of various conferences on financial aid. She is currently anFN DELEGATE to the UN Department of Public Information, Division for the Advancement of Women, Division for the Advancement of Women, Division for the Advancement of Women, Human Rights, Migrant Workers, and Social Protection.

Brennan is a member of the State and Local Tax Fairness Act Coalition. She has also hosted Ursula Burns, former President of Xerox Corporation, an engineer and businesswoman, as a sought-after speaker, keynoting International Women's Day.

While carrying the sadness of knowing their fellow congregants were viciously attacked at their fellow congregants were viciously attacked during Chanukah, many of the Jewish people who came to celebrate Chanukah were gladdened and amazed to see the people of other faiths showed us their great support. We gladdened and were amazed to see the expressions on the people faces...many of whom had never been to a circus before," she said. "I was happy to be able to provide such an amazing opportunity to members of our community."

"I always look for fun things to offer to our youth...I started my annual CP2 Basketball Tournament six years ago, and more recently, I was able to partner with a free trial ride to Rye Playland, a free one-week tennis clinic, and now a circus. As the new year approaches, I hope to provide more of these opportunities to our youth in 2020."
